

Mrs. Gibson had a gun or a revolver, although he had never seen it. He stated that Mrs. Gibson threatened to shoot a colored barber who has a shop on French st., New Brunswick, across from Washington School.

Also Rollin Harbough, a well-driller residing on Hamilton Road, toward East Millstone. Harbough said that when crossing Mrs. Gibson's property last July, 1926, he had an exchange of words with Mrs. Gibson who told him she would shoot him if he didn't get off her property at once.

D.T. 9/13/26

Jane Gibson lived in Trenton from 1910 to April 8, 1914; part of the time at 463 Chestnut Avenue; from April 6, 1912 until April 8, 1914 at 338 South Broad st. At 338 South Broad street she kept a cheap rooming house and on numerous occasions Officer Gus Kulp was sent there when disorder broke out in her house. She had two children, one William and one Alice, who went to private school of Miss Ireland, 447 Chestnut Ave., Trenton. William Easton was listed as an "auctioneer" and lived with Mrs. Easton as a boarder, employed at watch factory as a machinist.

P.W. 9/13/26